afternoon accompanied by other prominent officials of the road and in the official private car, No. 402,
was taken to the new yards, ostensibly really, it is thought, to sound the sentiment of the railroad employees here in regard to the strike situation in Chicago. As a result of his visit or the night of switches on his visit,

the number of switches on the night switch-engines has been cut down to two. The official party left last night for Chicago on train No.

LINCOLN'S VISIT TO JANESVILLE

"GREAT EMANCIPATOR" HAD BEEN IN THIS CITY BEFORE ELECTED PRESIDENT.

HIS BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Talk of Marking the Trail He Followed During the Blackhawk War With Suitable Mobs.

While Wisconsin does not mark February twelfth, the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln as a holiday, still the memory of this great man is observed on this day with the same reverence as is accorded to George Washington. Last year Janesville enjoyed a truly Lincoln celebration.

Lincoln's Birthplace, his Death Bed, and Lincoln and his Son Todd.

(ton, held under the auspices of the Rock County Bar association, at which time Hon. George R. Peck of Chicago delivered an oration on the great man, which will go down in literature as a masterpiece. This year there is no formal exercises but doubtless in many homes the speech that Lincoln delivered on that memorable occasion at the dedication of the Gettysburg battlefield will be read. It is the best of the man, who gave his life for his country, and will live through centuries.

Abraham Lincoln visited Janesville long before he became even a presidential candidate. He came first, according to tradition, with the troops that followed "Blackhawk," the great Indian chief, and while he did not stop here, simply crossing a corner of what is now Janesville, he later visited the city and remained over night.

Permanent workers are to outline the historic march made by Lincoln in the valley of the Rock river during the Blackhawk war which expedition brought the young lieutenant through Janesville.

Congressman Frank Lowden of Oregon has been interested in the project and has already given a sum of money to prosecute the work. It is quite likely that Atty. Cornillius Buckley of this city will be called upon to aid in the work of tracing Lincoln's line of march in the valley as the hotel man has made this section and the Blackhawk war a life study and is doubtless the best posted man on the subject now living. Only the oldest inhabitants in these regions now have any actual memory of the course of that campaign, which is not adequately outlined in history.

The object of the markers will be to fix permanently the line of march and the camping grounds planned by the martyred president. The way led across the prairies of Illinois, to the Mississippi river at a point near Burlington, then known as Flat Hills. The march was made from Boardman, Ill., to Oquawka, then known as the Yellow Banks, on account of the yellow coloring of the river shore line. From Oquawka the route was laid to the mouth of the Rock river.

There were two expeditions in the Black Hawk war, one in 1831, when Black Hawk escaped from the pursuers and crossed the Mississippi, and the second in the following year when Black Hawk returned to the Illinois shore with the determination to remain. Lincoln was made captain of one of the companies which took up the campaign against the Indians. The expeditions gave a number of names to the localities along the route are still borne. It is interesting to note that twenty-five years after his brush with Black Hawk, Lincoln, when he was coming into prominence, again visited Yellow Banks, and after making a speech there, went to Burlington by boat. Yellow Banks had become Oquawka and was a thriving village.

The markers to be placed along the route include, and a map of the march will be drawn and copies sent to all among the public records at various points.

recent trial in New York: A jury in the Supreme Court in Kings County today gave a verdict for $75,000 against Laura Bigger Bennett, in favor of Mrs. Agnes May Hendrick, who was suing the former actress for the alienation of Mr. Hendrick's affections. The suit was for $100,000. The verdict is one of the largest ever given in a similar action. The suit of Mrs. Hendrick is the outgrowth of the famous contest for the millions of old Henry M. Bennett of Pittsburg and New Jersey. After his death, Laura Bigger, who had left the stage and had been living at Bennett's home in New Jersey, came forward, claiming to be his widow. She had been well remembered in his will but demanded her dower rights.

Dr. Hendrick attended her while she was ill and swore in the birth and death of a child which she alleged was Bennett's. She said the marriage had taken place in Jersey City.

In the fight that followed, Dr. Hendrick, a justice of the peace and Laura Bigger were indicted and tried for conspiracy. She was acquitted and the other two convicted. Dr. Hendrick was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. He appealed the case and won. This was in 1902.

His wife soon after became jealous of Miss Bigger and there finally was a break. Dr. Hendrick at the time being a prominent practitioner of New Jersey with a sanitarium at Taymouth, Laura Bigger Bennett for a long time was the only patient.

At the trial which ended today neither Dr. Hendrick nor Laura Bigger Bennett was present. Miss Bigger's affidavit supported by that of Dr. Hendrick was put in evidence.

Defense Files Affidavit.

The defense of the former actress was that Dr. Hendrick had ceased to love Mrs. Hendrick before she had met him and for that reason she could not have alienated an affection that did not exist.

Mrs. Hendrick told of visiting her husband when he was in prison, and seeing the actress come in while she was there. Mrs. Hendrick told how Laura Bigger Bennett placed a flower in Dr. Hendrick's coat, and pulled the face through the bars. In both her hands and kissed it. The protests of the wife were met by the answer: "He loves me and doesn't love you. So what are you going to do about it?" The jury was out three hours.

Since winning her fight for the Bennett money the former actress, it is said, has lost a recent deal of the $600,000 she received in a compromise with the heirs. Some of this was lost in a daily paper she ran for a while in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Recently, while in Pittsburg, she announced that she was going to return to the stage because she needed money.

Guests Carved for Themselves.

It was the custom in medieval times to serve roast meat on a spit, and to pass it round the table for each guest to cut off what he liked.

Must Advance or Recede.

No man or no nation can stand still. In a world where every form of life has grown out of a lower form, where one age builds on another, as the coral insect builds up the islands of the sea, nothing can be stationary.

Fancy Grapes Tied by Baby Ribbon.

The eastern shipments of "clusterettes," the new grape pack sent out this year by the California Fruit Exchange, utilized $3,000 worth of fancy baby ribbon, which if stretched in one piece would cover a distance of 25 miles.

The experiment proved a success, and the growers sending grapes east packed with fancy ribbon received much larger prices than those whose consignments went in the ordinary manner. Clusterettes go in the natural form in large bunches as picked from the vine, packed in specially constructed crates so the berries will not bruise.—Sacramento correspondence San Francisco Chronicle.

"Tell me, sir, the secret of your success," the rich man was asked. "I always looked after things before they got by me," was the somewhat paradoxical answer.

SOME MEN BUY CHEAP INSURANCE

and the best that can be said of it is that it is "CHEAP." It doesn't pay to buy cheap insurance at any time, because the cheap companies either raise the rates or fail. If you bought cheap insurance for 20 years at a cheap rate and then your company failed or your rate so high you were compelled to drop it, your insurance in an old line company would be pretty high at that age. If you will take out a 20-year endowment policy with us TODAY line company would be pretty high at that age. If you will take out a 20-year endowment policy with us TODAY line company would be pretty high at that age. If you will take out a 20-year endowment policy with us TODAY line company would be pretty high at that age.

If you should die before the 20 years, 1000 dollars would be paid to the beneficiary.

If the policy is in force one year, it is incontestable EXCEPT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

You will share in the earnings of the company, which earnings may be applied on the premium, or they can be made to hasten the maturity of the contract.

You can borrow money of this policy as per Table "A." At end of second year $50.00, third year $84, etc. You can apply the loan as payment of premium.

If two or more years full premiums have been paid and there is no indebtedness on account of loans, the policy will be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured, including dividend additions, for the length of time shown in the table "A" under the column "Extended Insurance," and at the end of the 20 years the company will also pay in cash the amount in table "A" under the column "Pure Endowment." As an example: Suppose you paid four years and then stopped; you would receive $1000.00 insurance and $12 in cash at the end of that time; at 5 years you got 15 years' insurance and $95 cash, etc.

If the policy should lapse for non-payment of premiums, it can be reinstated at any time within five years by paying the amount due with interest, if satisfactory evidence of insurability is furnished to the company.

Suppose you become totally disabled from sickness or accident, or become blind, or if you lose both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, then your premiums on this policy stop and the company pays you one-twentieth of the policy each year until the full sum of the policy has been paid.

NO MAN CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE

Think of the benefit it would be to wife and family or mother. If you should be called by death. Think of the great amount you would get all in one sum at the expiration of the policy, and then consider that it really costs you nothing except the interest on the money you would be saving. Round over the above carefully, see how you can borrow money on the policy, how it will carry itself, how you can be reinstated within five years if you should lapse.

INSURE YOUR WIFE

and make the $1000.00 payable to your child, you will be saving just that much money and all during the twenty years your wife is insured. Every rich man is insured heavily, every poor man needs it even more.

Many men are insured, but their wives are not, yet no man would insure one-half of his house and not the other. Insurance is as necessary on the mother of a family as on the father. Now is the best time to consider this matter. Every day, every month you put it off you are getting older—your rate is getting higher and no one knows when it will be too late.

Life insurance is a privilege. If it is within your reach today secure it today—tomorrow may be too late. We write the best policy in the world and with one of the strongest old line companies.

If you take out a policy with us you deal with an agency that has been established 36 years, an agency that has looked to the interest of its clients in a most thorough manner. During these 36 years of experience we have found that our companies are of the best in the world, and that it is wise to deal with a permanent established agency. Take out a policy with us and it will mature with us. Don't deal with an agent who is here today and gone tomorrow.

Write us to send you a sample policy so that you can read it over carefully, or if you prefer, we will call and explain the policy to you. Fill out the coupon right now. Do not let this important matter go another day.

The Wisdom of the Serpent. The serpent tempted the woman not because she was the weaker, but because she was the leader; not because of her subordination, but on account of her superiority. She was the stronghold of the fortress, and to win her was to win all. She held the key to the situation. She was the keeper of the castle. Where she led for good or evil the man would follow! —From a Sermon by Rev. Mr. Kerr of Chicago.

The Art of Seeing Things. The art of seeing things is not something that may be conveyed in rules and precepts; it is a matter vital in the eye and ear, yea, in the mind and soul, of which these are the organs. I have as little hope of being able to tell the reader how to see things as I would have in trying to tell him how to fall in love or to enjoy his dinner. Either he does or he does not, and that is about all there is of it. —John Burroughs.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

Now what is your niche in the mind of the man who met you yesterday? He figured you out and labeled you; then, carefully filed you away. Are you on his list as one to respect or as one to be ignored? Does he think you're the sort that's sure to win, or the kind that's quickly floored? The things you said—were they those that stick, or the kind that fade and die? The story you told—did you tell it your best? If not, in all conscience, why? Your notion of things in the world of trade—did you make that notion clear? Did you make it sound to the listener as though it were good to hear? Did you mean, right down in your heart of hearts, the things that you then expressed, or was it talk of a better man in clumsy language dressed? Did you think while you talked, or but ally recite what you had heard or read? Had you made it your own—this saying of yours—or quoted what others said? Think, what is your niche in the mind of the man who met you yesterday. And figure you out and labeled you; then, carefully filed you away.

—Success Magazine.

The judgment passed upon us by other people makes our reputation and most valuable asset. Reputation is our most valuable asset. Independence sometimes prompts the remark, "I don't care what other people think of me," but it is a thoughtless statement, for we do care.

The child in the home is constantly calling attention to what he can do and from the day he commences to scrawl on paper until he can write the finished sentence you are expected to pass favorable judgment on his efforts.

This demand of the embryonic mind is an endowment of birthright, and while less pronounced in later life it stays by us all through the journey.

The wife who has trudged along by your side for half a century still cares about what you think of her. Back in the old days her face was what to light up with pleasure when the children gathered at the board and complimented her cooking.

Her hand has lost none of its cunning, and if you want to call back the old smile repeat the old compliment and it is there. Better still, if you want to see the fountain of youth renewed, call up the old love story as a reminder of the days when you used to swing on the gate in the moonlight, and watch the "wrinkles" fade from the careworn face under the magic of the spell.

Yes, we do care what others think of us, even in the home, and it is to be regretted that the scramble for existence so often crowds out the sentiment and dulls the finer sensibilities which mean so much to ideal home life. The young man who stands at the parting of the ways, fresh from the environments of love and protection which have sheltered his boyhood, looks down the long vista which leads to a promising future and enters the new life full of hope and confidence.

The principles which make for character have been taught and encouraged, but character is of slow growth and time alone will develop strength or weakness.

This reputation is yet to be established under new and strange environments in the university of life, the most free, and yet the most exacting school in existence. The school where judgment is not always based on what we are, but on what people think we are.

People sometimes get the notion that they are not appreciated, overlooking the fact that there may not be much to appreciate. It takes more than a sign over the door to make a merchant, and more than a diploma to make a professional man.

The cost of high living and the mad desire to keep up with the procession has given to many men not entitled to it the reputation for wealth, and all over the country people are masquerading under false colors in efforts to keep in the swim. The boy on a $10 salary runs in debt for a dress suit and hires a carriage to take his best girl to a party, and when he shows up half awake the next morning, wonders why his services are not appreciated.

It is a very easy matter for people to deceive themselves by overestimating this importance and ability, but not easy to long deceive the public.

When Clifford Pinchot, the chief forester, was dismissed from government service, not long ago, a storm of protest resulted because of his and his wife's judgment.

In the light of investigation it has been proved that Pinchot recognized no authority and aside from his knowledge of forestry was totally unfit for the place.

He is now engaged in defending some of his unbusinesslike methods, among which was the establishing of a school of forestry for the education of young men and then sending out 200 university boys to work in the field as rangers, and having their names placed on the government payroll at salaries ranging from $900 to $1200 per year.

This was a nice thing for the boys, but if the head of every bureau should assume the same authority a stamp tax would be necessary to meet running expenses.

Pinchot is an expert forester, perhaps the best in the land, but as an executive officer he was totally incompetent, and his reputation as a failure at the head of the department is so well established that it will stay by him.

It will be found, before the Hallinger-Pinchot investigation closes, that the president was right in his estimate of both the secretary of the Interior and the chief forester.

Public opinion, as a rule, is charitable in its judgment of individual reputation and usually gives a man an opportunity to make good.

If a workman is an expert in any department of industry the circle where he moves is well aware of the fact and if he fails to go to the front, it is his own fault.

The bright lawyer or preacher, and the skillful physician soon make a place for themselves in any community, for reputation is a manifold advantage.

Every merchant is known either as a progressive, up-to-date businessman or a representative of that other class who have no license to be in business.

The man who drinks to excess soon becomes known as a "bum," and the man who gambles is avoided, because people have no confidence in him.

And so, all down the list, habits of life make or mar reputation, and public opinion usually sizes men and women up for what they are worth.

The boy or the girl with reputation to make can afford to be careful, for a misstep may blight it for all time. The good that people do—like honesty—is seldom advertised, but the bad is proclaimed from every corner.

The good opinions of people about us establishes confidence, and confidence represents 90 per cent of the world's capital.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

The Winter's passing slowly, and we shall let it go; its course has been unholy, with sleet and ice and snow; with threats and mauling ravings; with wild and wild behavior; and WINTER we've blown in our savings, to keep the stove aglow.

The hoary old forecaster who does the goosebump act, predicted no disaster; he made us think, in fact, the winter would be mellow, the kind to please a fellow, not wild, luscious and yellow; the prophet should be sacked. The winter's slowly going, and we shall let it pass; the green will soon be showing upon the trees and grass; cold blasts no more will grate us, and spring, to compensate us, will bring us new potatoes and other garden wares. The birds will soon be singing among the willow-trees, and, after honey wailing, will go the wasps and bees; and as there is no walling, that winter's strength is falling, that he, with banners trailing, is wobbly in the knees!

Deserved or Undeserved. The sweetest of all sounds is praise. —Zenophon.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

HIS HIGH IDEA.

Nelson O. Nelson, of Lechare, Ill., is a real force in the world of men.

Nelson does things. The founder of the co-operative factory and town of Lechare is a fine type of the Norwegian American citizen. A poor boy, the son of emigrant parents, a struggling young man, a soldier in the civil war, a successful manufacturer, benefactor—these are the steps in the ladder up which Nelson has gone.

Lechare, named for the founder of the profit sharing system, is a few miles from East St. Louis. It is a beautiful town. All the streets are planted as winding roads. "Right angled streets are as objectionable as right angled people," says Mr. Nelson. "There are flowers and shrubbery, a lake for rowing, fishing, skating, etc., a clubhouse, bowling alley—every convenience for comfort."

In this town the factory employees pay rent to themselves. Every cent of the rental goes toward paying for the property, and only a low interest rate is charged. The houses have every modern convenience.

Also in this town all public utilities, gas, water, gas, electric lights, are absolutely free.

Nelson O. Nelson pays the bill. But that is only the beginning of Mr. Nelson's beneficence. Every employee in the big factory shares in the profit of the business in proportion to his wages. From 1880 to 1904 these profits were distributed at the end of the year.

In 1904 dividends were temporarily suspended on account of slow business, but they were resumed next year with a 4 per cent interest on back dividends.

Beginning last year, Mr. Nelson paid no salary whatever to himself. "Least some one should say 'Something in it for Nelson,'" the president remarked.

Well, what has there been in it for Nelson?

He has made a big fortune out of it. He says dividing profits with the man who works for you pays. You are in partnership with every worker.

But—Mr. Nelson's idea is a bigger one than that of sharing profits for the sake of profits, big and beneficent as that idea is.

Here is his biggest thought: "There is something better than money, as I see it, in business. It is the satisfaction of making business a service."

"There is the heart of the man's high motive. Business rightly viewed is a distinct service rendered to humanity, as much as preaching—or more so. Personally it is Mr. Nelson's duty to serve his fellows."

What if our capitals of industry should all get that idea and feel that obligation?

ATTACKS VON MEYER'S PLANS AND IS IN DISFAVOR WITH THE ADMINISTRATION.

General L. R. Rogers, Paymaster, U. S. N.

Washington, D. C.—Gen. L. R. Rogers, paymaster, U. S. N., has found that to attack Secretary Von Meyer's naval plans is to attack the administration itself. Before the house committee he openly criticized the naval secretary's reorganization scheme and as a result the ire of all administration officials, including the president himself, has been aroused. It is probable he will be sternly disciplined if not ousted from his present position.

THE CAR THAT CAPTURED THE COUNTRY

THE OVERLAND—the Car of Simplicity—has become the sensation of Motordom.

In two years, simply by each car selling others, the demand has grown until the dealers contracts for 1910 call for 20,000 cars. You should know the car which in spite of fierce rivalry has so quickly attained the highest place in the trade.

OVERLAND MODEL 38 TOY TONNEAU, $1,100

Built in a factory and by men famous for the finest $5,000 car in the land; scientifically designed; constructed from the finest steels; provided with high-grade magneto and full equipment; absolutely unapproached from the standpoint of simplicity; and a WONDER to go—this Overland Thirty-Eight is today the most popular car in America. One of these new cars—exactly like the one pictured above—recently ran the 817 miles from Toledo to New York, through a blinding rainstorm and a sea of mud, in just 35 hours, making several new road records on the way. Not the slightest mechanical trouble developed on the entire journey, in spite of conditions so bad that the roads were said to be impassable. On nearing the finish the first good road of the trip was found, and the car entered the suburbs of New York at a speed of 52 miles an hour—timed by the motor cycle policeman who arrested the party. Another of these cars made a new record to Dayton, another successfully completed a 7,000-mile non-stop test over the worst roads in three states; another—but it is needless to detail further experiences, it would be a mere repetition of wonderful feats, wonderfully accomplished.

Here is the car—fast, powerful, durable, equal to any test, always ready, "always going." Try it just once! The price is $1,100.

MONITOR AUTOMOBILE CO. WILL

STOCK IS NEARLY SOLD

But a Few Thousand of the Fifty Thousand Dollar Issue Remain to Be Sold As Yet.

It is almost certain now that Janesville will be the home of the Monitor Automobile company. The committee which has charge of the sale of the stock, composed of James Ellfield, M. O. Mount and Fred Bellhaz, reported this afternoon that with the exception of a few thousand dollars, the fifty thousand dollar stock issue has all been subscribed. This means that Janesville is to be the future home of the auto company.

The Monitor Automobile company manufactures auto trucks and is now located in Chicago. It is in a most prosperous condition, employing about seventy-five skilled men and has orders for several hundred cars to be delivered as soon as possible. The reason for its transfer from Chicago to Janesville is that it may secure better quarters for the manufacture of their cars and to increase their working capital, which was not large enough to meet the demands made upon it.

The Janesville men, who investigated the company thoroughly before reporting to the business men of the city, report that its financial standing is most excellent and experts in the line of cars they manufacture make a similar report as to the car itself. The company evidently has a great future before it as the line of cars they manufacture is as yet in its infancy and the demand is increasing yearly.

The company will bring with it many of their best workmen and it will give steady employment to a large force of workmen from the city. It is expected that the work of moving the factory to Janesville will be begun as soon as possible as the company is in very desirous of starting on their spring delivery work at once.

The building which has been offered to the Monitor company is the new tobacco warehouse on North Academy street, owned by M. F. Green and Sons, and which is admirably fitted by construction for the manufacture of automobiles. It comprises three stories and a deep basement, is 132 feet long, 73 feet wide, and contains 35,514 square feet of floor space. It is constructed of white sand lime brick, strongly braced throughout in order to withstand the enormous weight of stored tobacco. It is practically a new building, as it was put up during the winter of 1906-7.

Greek Who Runs Peanut Stand on West Milwaukee Street Says They Threatened His Life.

On complaint of the Greek who runs the peanut stand at the corner of West Milwaukee and Academy streets, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Griffin, who reside on Linn street, will probably be summoned to appear in municipal court late this afternoon or sometime Monday and show cause why they should not be placed under bonds to keep the peace. The warrants were placed in the hands of Constable John Comstock this forenoon but at a late hour they had not been located. It is alleged the Griffins and their daughters, Mabel and Helen, visited the establishment last evening and precipitated a "rough-house" which resulted in all parties being summoned to the police station. The Greek, through an interpreter, declared that without cause or warning the family lined up in hostile array and after crowding about him made motions of such a threatening character that he deemed it wise to retreat behind the counter and prepare to defend himself with a stick of wood. Mrs. Griffin told Officer Brown that one of her daughters, when asked to produce the same, she declared it was at home. Officer Brown gave her strict instructions to bring the alleged improper card to the city hall this morning, but she failed to appear and was not to be found at her home when inquiries were made. The Greek, through the interpreter who happened in at the scene just as it was approaching a climax last evening and sent word to the police, insists that he has never handled any such cards as the one described and furthermore that he has requested the members of the Griffin family on several occasions to keep away from his place of business.

KNOX UNDER FIRE: THAT BRUTAL HUSBAND. DEFENSE INVITED

By HOWARD OTIS.
(Copyright, 1919, by American Press Association.)

She and her husband lived in the next flat above mine, and I pitied her. How she could endure to live with a man who kept such irregular hours I could not imagine. I should rather say regular hours, for he seldom came in till morning. It would be 3 o'clock and sometimes 4 o'clock when he passed my door. I could hear a door open above, and at times when my own door stood ajar I could hear a kiss of welcome. After that, there would be moaning about above, and sometimes a ripple of feminine laughter, never a scolding word, escaped from their apartments.

Often in summer, when doors and windows were left open to admit air, I could hear the rattling of dishes, the drawing of a cork, the clink of glasses, and know the couple were having a supper together. I remember one night when I could smell the odor of some savory dish. I got up, dressed myself, went out to a restaurant and got a dozen oysters, with a bottle of ale. But it was only my stomach that was appeased, not my heart, and I yearned for such an angel as lived in the flat above me and thought what a different husband I would make her.

Surely she must have had something of the bohemian in her nature, and, above all, I wanted for a wife a woman of that kind. I pitied those men whose wives must always remain at home and make their husbands miserable unless they are always at home too. What a jewel a woman must be who could receive her husband at all hours of the morning after he had spent nearly the whole night croning or playing poker at his club, give him a loving kiss and cook a supper for him! And when this is kept up night after night what must the enduring amiability of that woman be!

One day I left my room just in time to meet her on the landing. I lifted my hat and moved aside for her to pass, taking at the same time a good long look at her face. It was as fresh as if she were not awakened every morning by her brutal husband. It was not such a face as I had expected to see. I had fancied it would contain a devil-may-care expression common with bohemian women. Her features, on the contrary, were intellectual, with a trace of seriousness in them. Then it occurred to me that with such a husband how could she help being serious. It was a wonder that she did not show traces of suffering. She was going upstairs; I was going down. That was the first and only glimpse I got of her.

One morning I did not hear the husband come in at the usual hour, and the next day a doctor's buggy drove up to the front door. The doctor went up to their flat. He came every day for awhile; then a hearse stopped at the door, and I knew that the poor woman would no longer suffer the irregularities of a brutal husband. She never returned to the flat.

Some eighteen months afterward, while at an evening party, I saw her standing chatting with the hostess. I recognized her at once. How could I help recognizing her since I had carried that one brief glimpse I had got of her in my heart ever since? In a moment I was sliding up to the hostess and received the coveted introduction. I refrained from telling the widow that I had lived beneath her and was aware of how she had been obliged to sit up night after night waiting for that husband. I didn't wish to awaken painful memories. I politely preferred that she should think she was meeting me for the first time.

The hostess arranged for a mere than casual acquaintance between me and the widow. I saw much of her. There was nothing of the bohemian about her. Indeed, she seemed to have domestic tastes. Nevertheless I wanted her, and I did my best to win her. All this while I kept in the background my knowledge of her past and my surmises concerning her. In time she consented to become my wife.

I had put off so long telling her that I had known of her former domestic life that I resolved to defer doing so till immediately after our marriage. Indeed, I wished to make an experiment. Would she endure as much from me as from her first husband? I proposed to put her to the test. On our return from the honeymoon I told her that I desired to visit a former bachelor chum. She assented. At 3 in the morning I opened my front door and went upstairs. I expected to see my wife's bedroom door open and feel her arms about my neck. What was my disappointment to find that the door remained closed! I opened it and entered. My wife was sound asleep.

I should have considered myself fortunate not to receive a dressing. But I did not. I was angry. I made so much noise purposely that finally I woke her up.

"Pretty late hour this," she said, "for the day after the full of the moon." "Could not you make less noise and permit me to sleep?" "This was too much. I told her how I had often in the past heard her husband go home at that late hour and how she had received him. I who had taken what was left of a chilled heart, instead of getting a kiss or a hot supper received only complaint. She likened to me in some surprise and when I had finished said:

"You gander! My first husband was the editor of a morning newspaper."

Washington, Feb. 12.—Secretary Knox's diplomacy came in for a riddling fire in the debate on the diplomatic and consular bill which passed the house.

Representative Harrison and Fitzgerald of New York pitched into the head of the state department in a manner that invited defense, but further than a few words from Chairman Perkins of the foreign relations committee none was offered.

Many bold strokes in diplomacy, said Mr. Harrison, were justified only by their success, as in the instance of President Cleveland's Venezuelan message. But that had not been the case with some of the "shotgun" diplomacy of Secretary Knox, he said. "The Nicaraguan embargo, the Manchurian railway matter and the secretary's declaration that he would make it his duty to see that democratic forms of government should be maintained in Central America, he said, were examples of failure in the diplomacy of Mr. Knox.

Sees Trouble Ahead.

"This position is so untenable," he added, referring to the maintenance of democratic governments in Central America, "that some day we will be obliged to retire from it with mortification."

There had been an obvious difficulty in procuring men of proper character and ability to serve the United States abroad, said Mr. Harrison.

"The French mission was vacant for months until a man of proper caliber could be found," he said. "Take Austria, where a man (R. C. Kerens) has been sent to represent the United States after having his fitness for the position measured chiefly by the size of his campaign contribution. Take the English mission.

Paul Morton Under Fire.

"After that position had been declined publicly by a noted educator (Dr. Eliot) it has been offered by a New York newspaper to Paul Morton, and if Mr. Morton is appointed, that will be to reward a self-confessed violator of law and it will become patent to all the world that the path of the rebuilder is to lead to the foot of the throne."

This difficulty in finding good men for foreign missions, Mr. Harrison said, was the result of the destruction of diplomacy by the ocean cable.

Perkins in Mild Defense.

Replying, Chairman Perkins of the committee on foreign affairs said he was inclined to believe with him that it would be impracticable to see that republican forms of government were established in Central America, but he did not believe that the prestige of the United States in the far east had been injured. The success of American bankers in obtaining participation in the Chinese loan was an evidence of the good effect of Mr. Knox's course, he declared.

Mr. Harrison asked whether the American share of that loan had not been obtained by bankers of New York who were known as the "money trust," while other bankers had been unable to get a share of it.

Mr. Perkins replied that while he did not know about that phase of the matter, the fact remained that the loan had come to the United States.

The bill as passed carries $3,700,000, including Representative Lowden's provision for new embassies.

Senate Passes "Slave" Bill.

The Bennett "white slave" bill regulating the traffic in immoral alien women was passed by the senate practically in the same form as passed by the house.

ENJOIN PHONOGRAPH DEALERS.

Injunction Prevents the Sale of Records Except at List Price.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—In perpetually enjoining John T. Brenner and Clara B. Oakford of Quincy from infringing upon a patent covering manufacture of phonograph records owned by the New Jersey Patent Company, Judge Humphrey in the United States circuit court gave a decision of importance in sound reproducing machines.

The defendants in the suit are dealers in phonographic supplies and are said to have sold a certain kind of record below the regular price. The injunction granted forbids the defendants from selling records manufactured by the New Jersey Company except at list price, nor are the records to be sold in the same store in which other cylindrical records are sold.

How Chiropractic Saved Thousands of People—98% of the Sick Are Made Well—Every Kind of Disease

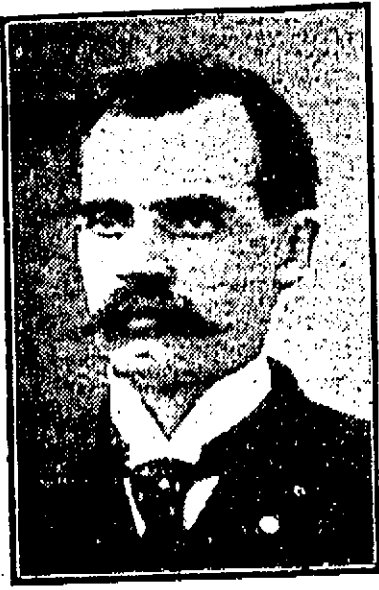

E. H. Harriman, the Railroad Millionaire's Family Could have Saved His Life for One Hundred Dollars If They Had Gone To a Chiropractor In Time. Then They Were Hurt Broken When the Great German Doctors of Austria Told Them the Trouble Came from the Spine and It Was Too Late. You Could Have Saved Yourself or Family for a Small Sum But It Will Cost a Thousand to Bury You or Them this Season

Give good health to yourself and loved ones. It is the best thing in the world, cheaper than to be buried with that trouble that is coming on you. Some dangerous disease may be just beginning to take hold on you. May be it is showing itself in a cold or that same old trouble which will end your days this time.

A visit to me now will mean years of happiness.

You don't value your health as you ought to, and don't guard your loved ones as you should. Your loved ones will have to spend a thousands dollars to bury you this season or you will help to bury some of them.

Just think how easily E. H. Harriman could have saved his life by going to a Chiropractor and had this place in his back adjusted and freeing the nerves to the stomach.

Thousands of people die because of a place like this in their spine. Thousands were made well by removing this place in their spine. 98 per cent of our cases are made well. Don't be foolish.

Here is a place in the spine that caused E. H. Harriman's death.

Thousands of them have been removed by Chiropractic Adjustments, at different places, according to what a disease they were causing.

Vienna, Oct. 1st

According to Professor A. Van Strumfelf, Harriman's European Physician, the Railroad Magnate was suffering from spinal disease known as Abrahine rheumatism at the time of his death, and the cancer was secondary.

The diagnosis was confirmed by an X-Ray Examination. Later the stomach trouble developed into cancer by irritating it with Mineral Waters and Drugs.

These great German Doctors were right; this place in his spine caused a pressure on the stomach nerve. The stomach was so weak that the Mineral Waters and Drugs eat down the cells, and irritated it into a cancer. Every disease is caused by one or more of these places in your spine, which is the cause of disease, and a Chiropractor can remove it. Don't let your prejudices kill you—just try it.

TELLS ITS OWN STORY.

Washington, D. C., Associated Press.

At a meeting of Associated Public Hospitals, Managing Physicians, Dr. Ross, Superintendent Hospital, Buffalo, New York, said:

"There was given in our Hospitals in America three hundred per cent less drugs than ever before in their history, and many new Hospitals now have no drugs given in them."

Pneumonia is so easy to handle by Chiropractic.

In ten years a Doctor who gives drugs will excite as much curiosity as a cannibal would turned loose in your streets. People will point to him and say: "There goes a man who thought he could cure a sick man by poisoning cases. In many of them it takes some time before much improvement is noticed, then they gradually get better until the cause is entirely removed. Dislocations affecting nerves leading to stomach often causes these troubles, and when we restore stomach nerves the troubles leave them.

WHOOPIING COUGH, HICCUPS, ETC.

Case 4. Had come in boy that had run into death hiccoughs, but was entirely relieved by adjusting the fourth vertebra in neck and freeing nerve to diaphragm. We have had a great many of these cases.

INSANITY.

Case 6. Young man who had had an attack of epilepsy, which had drawn the sixth vertebra in neck so that it was shutting off the nerve forces to the brain and the result was he became violently insane. This was adjusted and the young man became rational again. We find these dislocations in different parts, causing congestion that gives rise to different kinds of insanity. In some cases we find it takes several months' adjustments while in the case mentioned above ten days was sufficient to restore normal conditions. Constant thinking on any one subject will irritate the nerve leading to one part of the brain as to cause insanity on that particular subject. If the patient can be kept from dwelling on that subject and the excitement is no longer there the cerebrum will restore itself and the patient becomes rational again. As in the case of Harry Thaw, who when White—the cause of a subluxation of the vertebra throwing a pressure on the nerve leading to the brain—no longer existed, he became rational again. Nearly all cases of insanity are made well by Chiropractic adjustment.

PARALYSIS.

Case 7. Middle aged man had one side entirely paralyzed and heart circulation had almost ceased at times. His spine was adjusted at 7th vertebra in neck, which was cutting off nervous energy from brain by pressing on the nerves leading thereto. This case was not at all difficult to overcome.

We have a great many of these cases. All made well and happy. Do not always find lesions at same place.

CONSUMPTION AND BRONCHIAL TROUBLE.

Case 9. Consumption in a young lady. The second and third dorsal vertebrae were found in a lateral subluxated condition, throwing a pressure on the nerves that supply the lungs, causing long congestion of the lungs which threw the patient into consumption. By replacing the vertebrae and removing the pressure from these nerves it gives nature a chance to restore perfect health.

We have had a large per cent of these cases, and all were either made well or much benefited.

Consumption is not contagious, as conductors in overcrowded trains associate with these cases daily, and yet no more liable to contract this disease than men engaged in other callings.

Bronchitis is started with a cold or catarrhal condition of the head, the discharge therefrom running down the bronchial tubes which irritates the nerves and causing contraction of the muscles which produces a subluxation of the first and second dorsal vertebra. The result is bronchitis. By replacing these dorsal vertebrae I restore the natural condition and the disease disappears immediately.

DISEASES OF EYES.

Case 10. Boy blind most of three for five years; tumor on one side of eye-balls. The vertebra of the first and second cervical drawn to one side, contracting the nerves leading to eyes. He suffered intensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and he regained his sight and became well.

Cases of eye diseases of various kinds are brought to us. All have been made well when adjustments were taken long enough. We find that pressure on the nerves leading to different parts of the eye causes the different diseases; so the dislocation is not always at the same place in spine.

DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION.

Case 11. A prominent business man suffered for many years. Strained spine at 5th, 6th and 7th dorsal vertebrae, restoring the nervous energy to the stomach, and he can now eat any kind of food without trouble. A large percentage of my cases are of this nature. All are made entirely well.

HEART DISEASES.

Case 12. Prominent business man was compelled to sell out his business on account of irregularly in heart beat. Found 2nd and 4th vertebrae subluxated. By replacing vertebrae we removed the pressure from heart nerves which restored it to normal, and the man was made well immediately. This man went back into active business. We have a great many cases of weak heart, and usually we are compelled to remove some other lesion where there is a congestion, to lighten the work of the heart.

MALARIA, BILIOUSNESS AND ENLARGEMENT OF LIVER.

Case 13. A prominent contractor who had been living in a malarial district in the south contracted the fever, which left him with enlargement of liver and cramps. This case was entirely overcome by adjusting spine at 7th, 8th and 9th dorsal vertebrae, thus loosening the nerves to liver, forcing new energy.

In biliousness the liver is usually overworked by eating more food than needed, and then when it can supply no more it is lashed into activity by physics, until the trouble ends in chronic constipation. These patients can all become well by Chiropractic Adjustment, freeing nerves to liver and bowels. We have more of these cases than any other kind. It takes considerable time when case is chronic, but can always be successfully handled. If physics are continued or stimulants it ends in stroke of paralysis.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Case 15. A prominent man was so bad that his lower limbs were all swollen and broken out in many sores; turned out of hospital as incurable, to die. Spine was adjusted at 11th and 12th dorsal vertebrae and 4th and 5th lumbar, and freeing the nerves—to hips and the case was soon dismissed, another success for the great new science of Chiropractic.

We have many of these cases, and find the dislocations all about the same. Most of these cases are brought on by overwork, heavy lifting, a fall or insufficient amount of rest.

APPENDICITIS.

Case 16. A general manager of the Standard Oil Co. was made well by removing the dislocation of 2nd and 3rd lumbar, thereby relieving the pressure on the appendix nerves, thus restoring a normal condition which means a perfect health.

Hundreds of cases of appendicitis, many of them so bad that operation was demanded, have all been made well by the Chiropractic Adjustment by removing these conditions of spine and hip without any operation. I have never seen a case requiring operation, as the healing operation was demanded, have all been made well by the Chiropractic Adjustment by removing these conditions of spine and hip without any operation. I have never seen a case requiring operation, as the healing

CONSTIPATION AND FEMALE TROUBLE.

Case 18. One nationally prominent lady who has witnessed many cases of misplacement, twist and other female troubles during successful adjustments at the Chiropractic college, said: "If you have discovered nothing more than this way of curing these diseases without surgical operations, you done more to bless suffering women than anyone who has ever lived."

"We usually find a subluxation at the fourth and fifth lumbar vertebra, also sixth and seventh dorsal, causing prolapse and misplacements. These are all corrected even when adhesions have formed. Tumors are easily reduced and growth stopped. This kind constitutes the largest percentage of our cases."

RHEUMATISM.

Whenever there is a misplacement causing a pressure on nerves of any part of the body, rheumatism is the result in a great many cases, and by the replacement of the vertebra, your rheumatism disappears. I have never seen a case of rheumatism that could not be made well if patient takes Chiropractic Adjustment.

ASTHMA.

There is not a disease known but what a greater per cent of them can be overcome by Chiropractic Adjustment than by any other method.

Come and talk with me. I remove the cause and the sick get well. If you are calling in any way come now for consultation. Don't put it off as Harriman did, as his doctors said, until it is too late. The science of Chiropractic has worked marvelous wonders. It is an old truth learned in a new school. Read this letter. It tells a strong story of heart-felt thanks.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

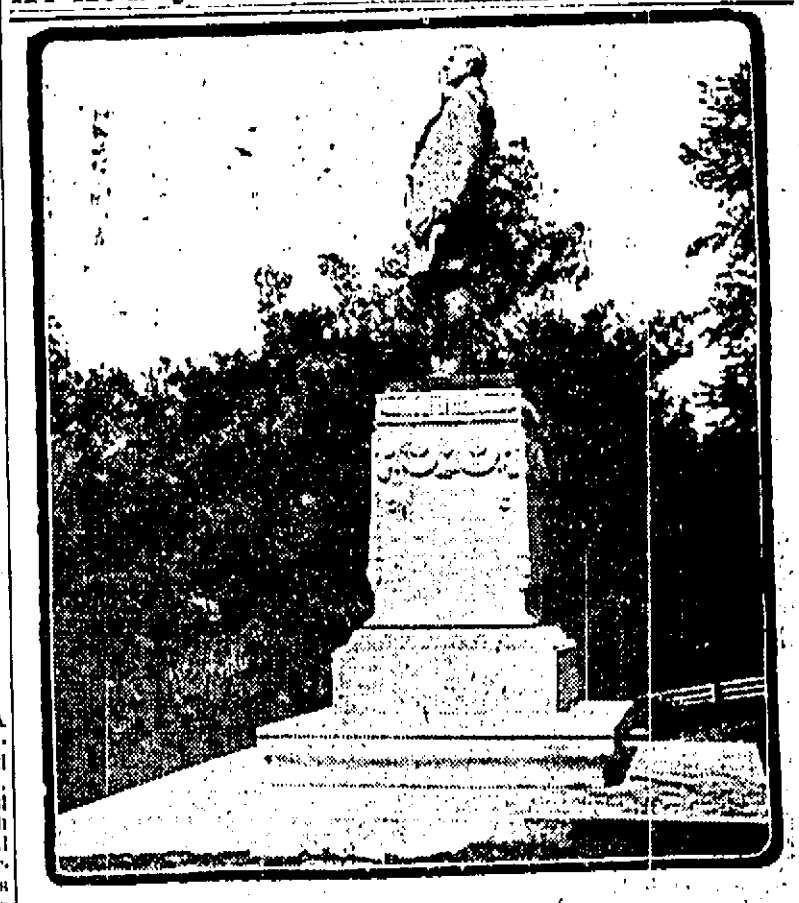

I am 26 years of age. I suffered 9 years ago with a tumor of the left side of my face just in front of the ear and upon consulting a prominent physician of Milwaukee was told that I would have to be operated on, as it was incurable and that by an operation I would be free from all my trouble, and was operated on three different times in a year and a half and this same Doctor said, that if I would follow it up with the X-ray treatment I would come out all right. So when I came to Detroit I took X-ray treatment three times a week for seven months.

The left side of my face became so paralyzed that I could not move it and my left eye remained open day and night. Then he told me that the muscles of my face were weak and that I would have to wear glasses, and they would relieve them. After spending about $200 for all of this quackwork I was worse off than I was before I started.

I was advised by friends to try Raymond Puddicombe's Chiropractic Adjustment, and by taking their advice went and saw Mr. Puddicombe and I am glad I did for I am now a well woman—not only of the paralyzed condition of my face, but of all my other troubles that most women are subject to. Now this testimonial is not given alone as a financial gain for Mr. Puddicombe, but for suffering humanity's sake as well. If you suffer, human men and women would only read the press and reason for yourselves and quit dealing with medicine and submitting yourselves to those unnecessary operations and go to Raymond Puddicombe, the Chiropractor, and take Chiropractic adjustment and have the cause of your disease removed, your disease will disappear and you would get well and feel like a human ought to feel. While talking Chiropractic adjustment I witnessed cases of all kinds of disease get well under Raymond Puddicombe's care. Hoping others will gain from my experience, I am,

Yours very truly,
MRS. O. PETERSON,

The statue is a memorial erected to Senator Goebel, Democratic aspirant for the governorship of Kentucky, who was assassinated in the state-house yard at Frankfort, January 30, 1875. The memorial stands in a hill Kentucky state cemetery on a hill overlooking Frankfort and was erected from public subscriptions, including nickels and dimes contributed by school children. The statue will be dedicated February 3, and prominent men from many parts of the country will participate in the exercises, the Kentucky legislature also taking a recess that day. A more pretentious memorial will be erected later by the state of Kentucky in honor of Goebel.

TRIS SPEAKER, SENSATIONAL OUTFIELDER OF THE BOSTON AMERICANS.

Boston, Mass.—It pays to be a star ball player, a player who is ranked with Ty Cobb, Hans Wagner and the best in the game. Although one of the most recent finds in the big leagues, Tris Speaker is one of the greatest players in the country. With the local American league team he has been a star for two seasons past. Last fall it was his great stick work that beat the Giants in the post-season series.

Recently Speaker was sent a contract by President Taylor. It didn't just suit. Speaker changed the figure to suit himself and sent it back to the club president signed. Taylor acknowledged the receipt of the contract, so next season Speaker plays with Boston, naming his own figure. Besides his work with the bat Speaker is a whirlwind of speed on the bases, has a good arm and covers lots of ground. He has everything that goes to make up a star player.

Lady Wrestlers By WALT MASON

A tall and stately western dame has taken up the wrestling game! For years she's practised on the mat; she's laid some other ladies flat; she gave them such a dizzy fling, they said she was a horrid thing; if they give parties any more, they won't invite her to their door. The stalwart dame is not dismayed; she knows that in the wrestling trade, a girl must pass up purple tears, and what and bridge, and things like these. She's taken wrestling to her heart; henceforth she only lives for Art; for her no cheap athletic butch; she's trying to interpret Gotch, to bring his Meaning to the front, as others do the Ibsen stunt. And when she's thrown some lady dubs, she'll work up Gotch and Koller clubs, and make a nice informal talk on toe-holds and the Nelson lock. She's made a good and worthy start; and if she's loyal to her Art, all girls will fire their spools and threads, and learn to spin upon their heads.

KATRINA VERY LITTLE KNOWS

She cannot play, she cannot sing

For how that girl can skate!

HARRY P. CLINE, THE MAN WHO DEFEATED DEMAREST, TAKEN DURING HIS REMARKABLE GAME.

WEALTHY CHICAGO DIVORCEE TO REMARRY.
Mrs. Ruth Swift Eversz, who is reported engaged to a New Yorker.

Chicago, Ill.—The engagement of Mrs. Ruth Swift Eversz, daughter of Mrs. Gustave T. Swift, 4818 Ellis avenue, to J. D. McGuire of New York, is to be announced one year from the day that the separation of Mrs. Eversz from her former husband, Ernest Hammond Eversz, became public. Mrs. Eversz is now in Santa Barbara, Cal., with her mother, but the rumor was confirmed yesterday by her brother, Harold Swift. Mr. Swift, in fact, has played a part in the romance of his sister. The devotion of the brothers to Mrs. Eversz, who is an only sister, long has been a matter of comment among the friends of the family. She has been an idolized member of the household and when she found it necessary to separate from her former husband they rallied about her. Shortly after her divorce from Mr. Eversz had been granted on February 9 of last year Harold Swift persuaded her to go with him to New York, taking with them the small daughter, Barbara, sole custody of whom had been granted to the mother. The journey was taken at the time to spare Mrs. Eversz the publicity attendant upon a divorce. While they were on this New York visit an acquaintance introduced Mrs. Eversz and Mr. McGuire at a reception given at the Waldorf-Astoria, with the result that Mr. McGuire has made numerous runs to Chicago since. Mr. McGuire, who is an official in the American Steam Pump company in New York, expects to go to California in six weeks to join his fiancée and her mother and to return with them at that time to Chicago, when the date for the wedding will be arranged. According to the bill on which a divorce was granted three days after it was filed both Mr. Eversz and Mrs.

Eversz declared the separation was agreed upon only because of incompatibility. According to the testimony, they had been separated for two years, although living under the same roof. They were married on November 5, 1902, in Barham, their only child, having been born on October 3, 1904.

At the time Mrs. Eversz gave forth this view of the situation:

"If two persons find that they cannot live together without interfering with each other's development, then they should separate. I think. Our ideas were not the same. I could not develop fully under his—not exactly restriction or surveillance—but, while subject to his ideas and influence, I suppose he, too, felt the same about me. I am young and have my life to lead. And so I returned to my father's house. I wish my life to continue from this time on as if this had never been."

Mrs. Eversz is a young woman of much beauty.

Electric Furnaces Popular.

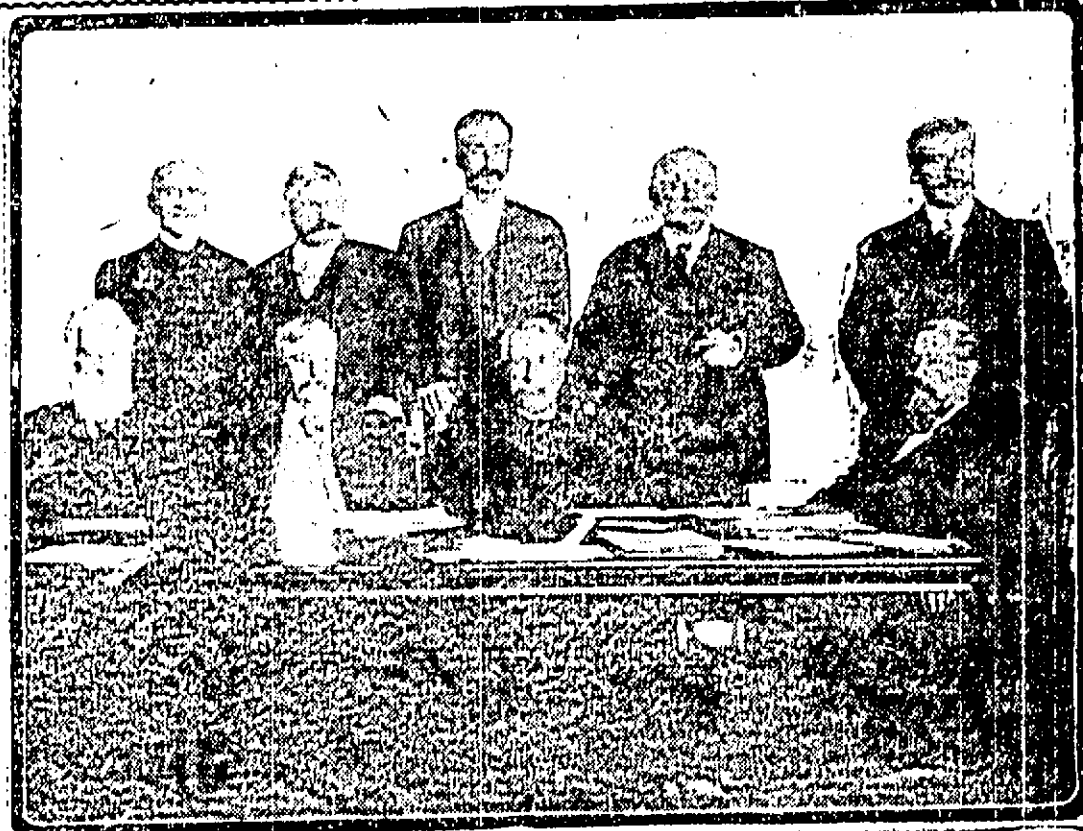

An article in the Gentle Civil states that 78 electric furnaces now exist in the steel works of the world, of which 35 are on the induction and 43 on the arc principle. Fourteen are Kjellin furnaces, 11 Siemens, ten Hochling-Rodenhauser, three Elektrometall Society (Sweden) and one each Colby, Hirth, Koller, Schneider and Wallin. There is a steady and marked tendency to increase the capacity of these furnaces, some of those already constructed holding as much as eight to ten tons.

"STORE HAIR" IS BAKED SIX HOURS

Bleached with Peroxide of Hydrogen,
and Otherwise Treated in a Fashion
Which Makes It Hot
for Germs.
Every up-to-date industry has its secret and active press bureau in this day and age. Let a report in published broadcast that somebody or published in the result of the Chicago department stores through the handling of hair goods. It proceeded so far in that metropolis as to engage the attention of the health department. The hair dealers, also, were right on the sidelines and as soon as the findings were in they proceeded to get into communication with their customers. Janesville dry goods dealers have been notified that after a thorough and rigid investigation under the supervision of Dr. Evans, chief of the health department, the fact has been established that the rumor was absolutely without any foundation whatever—that no case of leprosy or other contagious disease had ever been contracted in Chicago or anywhere else from handling human hair, and that the many and varied cleansing, bleaching and coloring processes through which the hair has to pass before it is in marketable shape, make it absolutely impossible for anything in the way of microbes or germs of infectious diseases to remain alive. If there were such things to start with.

"Being deeply interested in the question," the writer of the circular letter goes on to state that he visited one of the principal factories in the United States where human hair is prepared for market, and there found that when this hair arrives in this country,
it is practically saturated with oil
in order to preserve its vitality and elasticity during the time of shipment.
"To bring it to the condition
in which you find it in your samples or in our stock, it is first boiled for six hours to remove the oil which is then baked for six hours in order to give it elasticity and prevent it from becoming brittle after the boiling process. Doing all black when it arrives in this country, it is then thoroughly bleached with peroxide of hydrogen, the most perfect disinfectant known to chemistry. This bleaching process requires not less than three different baths of peroxide, so that any one of these three operations would render it absolutely sanitary. In addition to which there is all kinds of scouring, cleansing and rinsing, etc., used in the process of bringing it to the required different shades and colors, so you can readily understand and you can see assure your customers that there is nothing harmful in the stores that is more sanitary or more thoroughly clean or less objectionable from this point of view than human hair goods by the time they reach the merchant and are ready to deliver to the customer."

Thursday Evening.
[Special to the Gazette.] Evansville, Feb. 11.—At the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge last evening the rank of Page was conferred on six candidates, as follows: George Dewey, Dwight Reed, Earl Gibbs, Arthur Devine, William Henson and Walter Hunt. This is the largest class that the rank has ever been conferred upon. The date was also the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the order. Rev.
Upson, pastor of the Methodist church of Brooklyn, was present, and gave an address, and at the close of the work refreshments were served.

"The Young Local Missionary society of the Congregational church have adopted a very unique plan by which they will add one hundred dollars to the church fund by Easter Sunday. They have formed what they call a "rod, white and blue merry-go-round." Some lady in the church entertains ten friends and each of the entertainers ten others and so on until a thousand have been invited, and each guest will contribute ten cents. The first party was given last week at the home of Mrs. George

CLEAR-HEADED
Head Bookkeeper Must be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm caused by him:
"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago, and we have used it ever since,
and to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:
"About three and a half years ago I had an attack of pneumonia, which left a permanent in the shape of dyspepsia, or rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My cup of cheer had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial.
"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently and we did not like it much. This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Postum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of curing my stomach trouble. I verily believe for I and a well man today
and have used no other remedy."
"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co's branch house here is of a very exacting nature. During my coffee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues' in addition to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion."
"There's a Reason."
"Look in pigs for the little book,
"The Road to Wellville."
"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

CARDINALS GALLOPED OFF WITH BELVIDERE

Basketball Game at Rink Started Out Fast But Ended Easy Victory for
"Cardinals"—Was Spectacular Match.
In the most spectacular game played this winter on the rink floor, the "Cardinals" basketball team last evening defeated the Belvidere city team by a score of 31 to 16. The score was very one-sided, but the contest was spectacular, the visitors having but very little chance to show any skill. The crowd, which numbered nearly four hundred, was very enthusiastic over the match, and cheered and cheered the "Cardinals" and applauded Belvidere whenever their players made a fine play.

The game started off with a rush and at first it seemed as though the prophesy that Belvidere would win was going to come true. Janesville tried a rush for the Belvidere goal but failed to score. Then Belvidere tried a try at it and advanced to the Janesville danger line, but they too, could not tally. The play then returned to the Belvidere goal and the "Cardinals" got two points—one field basket. The visiting team made their first point a few minutes after on a free throw. Then they threw a basket from the field and the score was 3 to 2 in Belvidere's favor.

The pace the "Cardinals" hit at the beginning of the match, however, was a little too fast for them. Belvidere bounced and then they the Belvidere dropped in another field goal, then another, and after that at regular intervals until the records were 22 to 10 in their favor at the end of the half. They were substituted for Goodman as left guard for Belvidere in the middle of the half.

The Janesville team played an all-star game on floor work but did not throw baskets in their usual style.
Bruce and Wrate featured for the visiting team. Comstock, the "clank" center, was there, and dropped the ball into the basket by standing on his toes, but failed to distinguish himself otherwise.

In the second half, the Belvidere
five made a change in their lineup.
Bruce and King exchanged in the forward positions. On the Janesville quintet, Langdon took Bennett's place at center, Booth substituted for Langdon, Bennett played left forward and Cunningham right forward. The culls gave a fine exhibition of team work in this half, passing the ball from one to another and then dropping it in the basket. In this manner, Langdon dropped the sphere five times through the net from the field.
Beers four times, Cunningham three times and Bennett twice. Belvidere made two baskets from the field.

ALBANY LOST TO THE LOCAL SCHOOL FIVE

Fine Basketball Game at High School
Yesterday Resulted in Close
Score of 28 to 22.
The best game of the season played in the gymnasium of the Janesville high school took place last evening at five o'clock, when the local school basketball five met and vanquished the squad from the Albany high school.
The Albany team put up a strong game from start to finish and the score, 28 to 22, was a close one.
Janesville put forth its best efforts in the first half, standing seven points ahead of their adversaries at the end of the first half, and thus winning the game. Korst and Green starred for the Bowey City five but the work of the other players was exceptionally good, especially in team work.

The way is now practically clear for the Janesville squad to participate in the state tournament at Appleton.
Waukesha is their only opponent now in the field who can prevent it, but the locals have been victorious so far and hope to keep their record unbroken.
The teams lined up yesterday as follows:
Janesville: Murphy, right forward;
Green, right guard; Macdonald, left
guard.
Albany: Tills, right forward;
Atherton, left forward; Snidley, center;
Townie, right guard; Christopher, left
guard.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR IS SACKETT'S PLAN

Rockford Theatre Manager Planning
for Big Fair to Be Held in Beloit
This Coming Summer.
George C. Sackett, of Rockford, a former newspaperman and now manager of the Grand Opera-house in the Forest City, was in Janesville today and with some friends discussed the proposition of holding a big Tri-County fair on the Beloit fair grounds.
Mr. Sackett has been negotiating with the owners of the fair grounds and both he and the proprietors are enthusiastic over the prospects. Nelson Beloit, Rockford or Janesville have a fair and it is thought that one conducted along modern lines
would attract people from Rock, Winnebago and Boone counties and provide one of the great affairs of the summer season. According to Mr. Sackett's plans, as he outlined them, there would be the regular exhibits of farm products, with large prizes offered and other features that go to make up a successful fair, and as special attractions horse and automobile races, with perhaps balloon races to add to the interest of the event. He plans to make it one of the greatest fairs in the Northwest and would make a trip to Beloit after the snow has gone to look over the grounds.

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness
By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

It is utterly impossible to keep well unless the feet are kept dry and warm all the time. If they are for the most part cold, there is cough, or sore throat, or headaches, or sick headache, or some other annoyance. If cold and dry, the feet should be soaked in hot water for ten minutes every night, and when wiped and dried, rub them well with 10 or 15 drops of sweet oil; do this patiently with the hands, rubbing the oil into the soles of the feet particularly. On getting up in the morning dip both feet at once into water, as cold as the air of the room, half-an-ankle deep, for a minute in summer, half a minute or less in winter, rubbing one foot with the other; then wipe dry, and if convenient hold them to the fire, rubbing them until perfectly dry and warm in every part. If the feet are damp and cold, attend
only to the morning washings, but always at night remove the stockings and hold the feet to the fire, rubbing them with the hands for 15 minutes, and get immediately into bed. Persons who walk a great deal during the day should, on coming home for the night, remove their shoes and stockings, hold the feet to the fire until perfectly dry, put on a dry pair of hose,
and wear slippers for the remainder of the evening.

Know What Saves Fuel

Sectional view of Capitol Solar Boiler.

You don't have to be a heating engineer to know whether a boiler is good or bad, and it pays you to know.
Especially before you buy. It means dollars and dollars of fuel saving right from the start.

Enough in a year or two to pay the difference between a poor
boiler and a good one.
It is to help you
know what saves fuel
in a boiler for hot water or low pressure steam that we urge you to send for our free book.

"Heating the Right Way." Send for it today! This book and our literature give you new light on the fuel question.

You have read a whole lot of advertisements about hot water and steam heat. Claims are made of "perfect heating," "fuel economy," etc. But others don't show you. We do. Send for book and see for yourself.

Capitol Boilers
and Radiators

(Hot Water and Low Pressure Steam)
When you have once seen the simple heat-multiplying, and fuel saving features of the Capitol you will know where to look for efficiency and economy.

You will want to know how much of the surface presented to the heat is water area. In Capitol Boilers all the surface around and above the firepot is water area. No cast iron plates between water areas to waste the heat.
You will notice how the water circulates. In the Capitol Solar a separate waterway, connecting the dome and firepot sections, gives a direct independent downward circulation. The cooler descending water is not blocked by the hotter rising water. Thus perfect internal circulation is always maintained.

You will notice how deep the firepot
is. Capitol Boilers are unusually deep.
They are corrugated, increasing the direct water heating surface. The corrugation also permits plenty of air circulation at the edge. This means complete combustion.

Capitol Boilers are doubly tested at the factory. They are all put up complete and thoroughly inspected before shipment.
Any fuel, including coke and the low grades of soft coal, can be used in Capitol Boilers.
These boilers
—the round and the square—the latter to meet the requirements of large residences, churches, office buildings, apartments, etc. Capitol Radiators are of beautiful design—arranged to give the largest radiating surface.

A MOTTO FOR OUR AGE
"The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."—2d Cor. 4th chapter, 18 vs.
This old world has gone through some strange changes in its long history. There have been periods when men had a clear vision of eternity; when as it were the dominant thought of the leading nations was directed towards the spiritual world. Other times the vision of eternity seems to have been lost, or at least obscured. In our own age, with its marvelous development, and its multiplication of the luxuries of life, there has been a marked diminution in the interest in eternal things; our underestimation of the true proportion of values in human life. No matter how brilliant or gifted a man may be as statesman or business man or scientist if he has no vision of eternity, if in his estimate of constructive life he makes no calculation for the limitless period beyond the grave it is impossible to live wisely. The great call of this age is for men in all the leader paths of life to take in account that human action and human reward can only be measured by the recognition of the truth that the things that are seen are temporal; but the things that are not seen are eternal. The man who first wrote these words was known as Paul the Jew by the haughty Romans and Greeks who happened to come in contact with him. He represented the religion that seemed to the learned of his day a passing piece of fanaticism. He had made a brilliant record as a student in the school of the learned Gamaliel at Jerusalem. He had known something of the splendid ceremonial of Jewish worship, and the wonderful revelations that came to the Jews through prophet, priest and king; but when he came in contact with Jesus of Nazareth, whose kingdom was a spiritual kingdom, and who lived a life of suffering, dying on the cross, he forsook all and followed Him. He preached this gospel in Asia Minor, and Greece, and Rome. In the latter place he was cast into a dungeon. It was from this prison that in writing his second letter to certain Christians dwelling in Corinth, he gave voice to a motto that ought to be written on the portals of the hearts of the men and women of every age who are inspired by a desire to make their lives count for something here in the world. When St. Paul wrote these words Jerusalem still had its temple, with its great stones and beautiful columns; with its priests and ancient ceremonial. Antioch had its noble amphitheaters; Ephesus its temple of Diana, which was one of the seven wonders of the world. He had seen the glory of Athens, with its works of art, graven in stone and metal. He had walked through the streets of Corinth, where the east and the west met in all their luxury and splendor. He had been to Rome and witnessed the mighty buildings erected in the open city of the world, and seen the grandeur of the Caesars. To the ordinary eye these things seem the permanent; but this man infused with a faith in the eternal Christ, says: "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." And now after two thousand years what a scientific necessity there is in the statement. All the visible things of his age that seemed so permanent at that time have passed away. The glory of Greece has departed. The grandeur of Rome has fallen into decay. The temple of Jerusalem has been demolished, and the Jewish people scattered to the ends of the earth. What are the lessons that we are to learn in this our age and period of the world's history? Never was there a greater call than there is today for men and women in this energetic bustling America, to remind themselves of the truth that the things that are seen are temporal. Not the mighty palaces of luxury, nor the babel towers of commercialism, nor the long iron fingers of commerce, stretching out from ocean to ocean, are the things upon which we can most felicitate ourselves as a people. Let us not boast concerning what manner of building, resources or wealth may be ours, but what manner of men and women; what amount of national individual righteousness we are developing. Brief and passing are the things upon which the many put their energies and expend their years. Their mistake is not so much in living busy and enterprising lives, but in failing to appreciate their relationship to eternity, and that the greatest success in life comes from not what we possess, but what we are by the experience and development of our career. Not the amount of money that a man makes, but the character he develops, is the true measure of success; and no man can live as he ought to who has no vision of the unseen world, and the bearing of human life upon our preparation for it. Christ coming as the son of God from that world, all through His human life showed His estimate of how a man ought to live, and how fearlessly, after living in accordance with God's laws he can meet the most tragic death. And Christ by His resurrection lifted the veil and showed us how the lines of human life are projected far out into that measureless region that we call eternity. So that no one identifying himself with the over-living Christ can fail to take in its due proportion, and in proper perspective the duties and pleasures that come to us in our present human life. Let a man then be energetic in his business as possible; let him build his home and fulfill his social duties; but let the undertone of all his actions be a remembrance of the fact that character righteousness faith in God and the eternal are the permanent things; all else in nature and society, in government and domestic life, are passing away. So that in conclusion my message to the people that these words may reach in our wonderful America is link your life with Christ, who passed beyond the grave; measure your human duties and pleasures with the measuring rod of eternity. Let the light from the land of eternity shine on the things of time. Let the call of the spirit land invade your business office; your halls of pleasure; and your domestic life. Hear the message of the ages—"The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."

Tribute to the Drama.
In his speech at the luncheon at the Comedie Francaise, Mr. Walkley put the actor above the minister, the politician, the ambassador, as an agent of international understanding and good-will; and until political questions become acute—in other words, until our pockets are touched—the claim holds good. If the arts are the chief bonds of unity, among all the arts the drama is at once the most far-reaching and the most national.—London Times.

Champion Grafter.

"There's no grater grafter in the world," said the German woman across the hall, "than the elevator man. He can't be beat. Do you know what this one does? Makes the tea man pay him a quarter a week for bringing him up on the elevator. Makes the beer man give him six bottles of beer a week, or walk all the way up. Makes the newspaper man cough up something, makes the milkman leave him a bottle of milk every morning, a quart, mind you, and collects a weekly stipend from every fat dweller in the house, or fixes it so that they belong to the 'wild-and-woe' crowd. He makes me tired, this elevator man here," said the German woman. "I've a good notion to move."

RIVAL UNIONS IN RIOT: DRIVERS ARE SET UPON

Scedders from Teamsters' Body in Chicago Attack Men at Lime Works.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Rivalry between two teamsters' unions started a riot at the plant of the Chicago Union Lime works at the corner of Lincoln and West Nineteenth streets. Drivers were pulled from their seats, trucks were overturned, bricks and stones were hurled and property was damaged by horses which became frantic from the confusion. Several of the rioters sustained injuries from flying missiles and from clubs in the hands of their opponents. The police were hurriedly summoned, but before they arrived the attacking party had fled. The drivers employed by the company are members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, which is identified with the Chicago Federation of Labor. The police say the trouble was caused by members of the Chicago Teamsters and Helpers' union, who recently seceded from the parent body and organized a rival union.

NEW LAW FOR AUTOMOBILISTS.

Federal Registration Measure is Sought by Devotees of Machines.

Washington, Feb. 12.—A federal registration law for automobilists is the main object of the national legislative convention which opened here today under the auspices of the American Automobile association. Other sessions will be held next week. The interest in the enactment of a measure of this kind is so great that delegates are present, not only from the various automobile clubs throughout the country, but from a number of different states, at least 20 governors having sent official representatives. The proposed measure is now before the interstate and foreign commerce committee, having been introduced into congress in March, 1909, by Representative W. W. Cocks of New York. If passed the bill will enable an automobile owner, after conforming to the motor regulations of his state, to secure a national registration for his machine at a nominal fee, and then be at liberty to tour in any part of the union without fear of being halted at various state borders and told that he cannot enter unless he registers his machine and pays the license tax under the laws of that state.

ALDRICH TARIFF IS INDORSED.

Indiana Republican Editors Also Affirm Loyalty to Taft.

Indianapolis, Feb. 12.—The Indiana Republican editorial association late last night indorsed the Payne-Aldrich tariff law despite the fact that no mention was made of the measure in the resolutions presented to the editors by their resolutions committee. The resolutions, as presented, affirmed loyalty to President Taft, favoring the commission plan as a means of obtaining more nearly perfect tariff laws and indorsed Senator Beveridge for re-election. When a motion was about to be made to adopt the resolutions Robert A. Brown, editor of the Frankfort (Ind.) News and former reporter of the state supreme court, made a stirring speech, in which he declared the editors should stand by all the acts of their party and indorse the tariff bill. Such indorsement was inserted in the resolutions by unanimous vote.

HOLD TRAIN ROBBERS ON BOND

Missouri Bandit Confesses and Implicates Another Under Arrest.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—In a confession to Warren W. Dickson, post-office inspector here, George Chelling, who with three others was arrested on the charge of holding up the Missouri Pacific passenger train near Glenoco, Mo., said he and William W. Lowe also under arrest, were the bandits. He denied that other suspects arrested were concerned in the robbery. Commissioner Charles Morresey fixed their bond at $20,000 each. The robbery occurred on the night of January 21. The proceeds were about $100 from registered mail.

This is one of the largest amounts ever given by a jury in such a case in New York. Mrs. Hendrick had asked for $100,000.

Highest Form of Beauty.

Of all the beauty which can adorn either man or woman, there is no beauty like that of perfect health, a fine bearing, and a keen intellect.

If you will read the editorial page in this week's (date of February 12) number of

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Edition 1,575,000 Copies

you will find it clearly proved from the Post-Office Department's own reports, that it is totally unnecessary to put any additional tax on magazines and periodicals, and that a deficit of $17,500,000 is not chargeable to the periodicals.

For instance, the Post-Office Department is charging $13,821,100 of the cost of rural free delivery against the second-class mail. Now, rural free delivery was established as a matter of Government policy, and we believe in it, but it is not fair to charge one dollar of this expense against the magazines. It is undoubtedly of benefit to the daily newspapers, but the Department is trying to exempt them from an increase in rate. The magazines do not need or want once a day or twice a day deliveries on these rural routes.

Page 256, Postmaster's Report, 1908, says: "Franking privileges weighed 4,555,634 pounds. They certainly cost the average price of all mail in all ways. And Governmental matter for Departments other than the Post-Office weighed 18,644,910 pounds."

This report says that if the matter was charged at postal rates it would yield a revenue as follows:
Second-class $ 531,560.94
Franked matter 3,987,546.44
Government matter 16,362,131.95
Total credit due Department . . . $20,881,239.33

And that awful deficit disappears.

"It is impossible that a business of over $200,000,000 should not offer an opportunity for enormous savings. And a business like that of our great Postal Department, with endless ramifications, must offer endless opportunities."

"No Postmaster-General entering his position to-day, with all the duties befalling a Cabinet official besides running his Department, no matter how great his intelligence or how fine his training, can grasp the details of this enormous business before he disappears. There is no time given to him to find these opportunities to save expense. The affairs of the Department must, for the most part, be administered by those under him."

Given a chance they would save in business economies more than the alleged deficit of $17,500,000.

We ask Congress to give us a Director of Posts—as recommended by the joint Congressional committee of 1907, an officer who shall be non-political, and whose term of service shall not be subject to political changes, and who shall conduct the workings of the Post-Office Department with the efficiency, economy and business-like methods which distinguish high-class American business enterprise.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, February 12, 1870.—Jottings.—A break in the lower dam a day or two since, which promised to be of a serious nature, has been repaired with little expense, comparatively, by taking that much appreciated "stitch in time."

The wagons of the express company have come out from under the hand of Mr. C. H. Voorhees, of this city, in a new and beautiful dress of paint and varnish.

The V. M. A. room was crowded last evening by an intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen, to hear the debate on their and free trade. The disputants were Messrs. S. B. Smith and H. B. Warner. Much interest was manifested in the discussion. It is expected that Hon. J. C. Sloan will take part in the debate two weeks from last evening.

The great pantomime Hickory Dickory Dock is in preparation by some of our amateur performers, and will be put on exhibition in this city within a month.

In a month. Tradition informs us that this pantomime was played in New York City for 700 successive nights; and as it has never been produced in Janesville, it is supposed it would not be possible to keep it going in this city for more than a year. Several artists are at work on the scenery.

Brick for the new block on West Milwaukee street are arriving upon the ground. The earliest warm days will witness the commencement of the structure.

The annual meeting of the Rock County Sunday School Association is to be held on the 22d and 23d inst. in the Congregational church of this city.

The new First Ward school building in this city is to be formally opened on the 22d inst., the anniversary of Washington's birthday, with appropriate exercises.

A new school district has been formed in this city.

A real surprise awaits every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble who takes several doses of Pope's Bladder Pills. In the back, aches or pains, headache, nervousness, rheumatism, pain, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyes, lack of energy and all symptoms of out-of-order kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, offensive and discolored water and other bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect kidney or urinary disorder or feel any such malady, begin taking this famous medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price.

made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pope's Bladder Pills, which any druggist can supply.

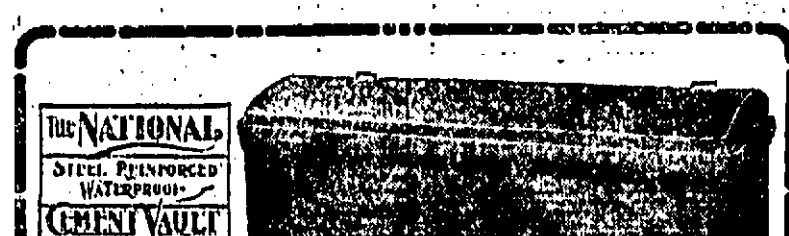

It is needless to feel miserable and worried, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and urinary system, distributing its cleansing, healing and strengthening influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and compels the cure before you realize it.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pope, Thompson & Pope, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pope's Bladder Pills, and a few days' treatment will make any one feel fine.

Accept only Pope's Bladder Pills—cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

NAVAL COURT FIND AULT AND ROBBETT GUILTY

Sentence is Set Aside by Assistant Secretary Winthrop—They Are Restored to Duty.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The Boston naval court-martial found Paymaster George Porcely Ault and Passed Assistant Surgeon Ansey J. Robnett, U. S. N., guilty of conduct unbecoming officers and gentlemen and sentenced each to lose five numbers in rank.

Paymaster Ault's plea of insanity stood him in good stead, however, as did the testimony of Miss Dorothy Wheeler, the young Chicago girl and dancer of Surgeon Robnett. It was her testimony that won from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Winthrop an exoneration. The court-martial finding was set aside.

Will continue All the Week.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The anti-top lions' bill hearing, resumed before the house committee on agriculture, will extend through next week.

Ex-Gov. Wolcott Injured.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12.—Former Territorial Gov. Louis Wolcott of Arizona, one of the leading mining engineers of that territory, sustained serious, if not fatal injuries when he was run down by an out-bound Venice "niger," Mr. Wolcott, who is 70 years of age, and a native of Kentucky, was appointed governor of the territory of Arizona in 1889 by President Harrison.

Pegging the Frogs.

In France, a hundred and fifty years ago, the rich people living in the country walked men and boys among the poor to talk about their lakes and ponds at night and throw stones at the frogs who croaked and made a disturbing noise. It wasn't fun for the boys after the first night or two, and the frogs also had something to complain of.

APPROVES DUSTING OF PINCHOT.

Governor Haskell Says Taft Did Right in "Firing" Forester.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 12.—Gov. C. N. Haskell, in an address at the banquet given here by the Guthrie Chamber of Commerce and state officials, surprised some of his auditors by a defense of President Taft's action in the Hafflinger-Pinchot episode. He declared that the president was entirely right in "firing" Pinchot; that the latter had been guilty of insubordination and got what was coming to him.

ALARM FOR KAISER'S HEALTH.

Is Said to Be Suffering from Recurrence of Ear Trouble.

Birmingham, Feb. 12.—The London correspondent of the Post telegraphs that somewhat alarming rumors are in circulation in regard to the health of Emperor William of Germany. It is said that he is suffering from a severe attack of catarrh and that this has caused a recurrence of his ear trouble. Painful suppuration, it is said, has ensued, accompanied by neuralgic pains. This has brought on considerable nervous irritability.

ONCE MONEY KING; DIES POOR.

Tewksbury, of Wall Street Fame, Succumbs in Free Hospital.

New Orleans, Feb. 12.—With no relative or friend to cheer him in his last hours, Lewis G. Tewksbury of New York, once a broker who wielded great power in Wall street, died in a charity hospital here from uraemic poisoning. He had been in the hospital since January 28, when he fell from a boot-black's stand in the Cosmopolitan hotel and was seriously injured. Unless his body is claimed by friends it will be buried by the city.

HURLS TWO BOYS FROM TRAIN.

Dying: Lad Says Brakemen Threw Them Off—One Dead.

Laporte, Feb. 12.—Two boys, riding from Toledo toward Chicago, were thrown off a coal car by a brakeman while the Lake Shore freight train was running 20 miles an hour, according to the dying statement made to Coroner Osborn by one of them, H. E. Capps, Atlanta, Ga. The other boy, either Edward Tarnack of Willow River, Minn., or O. W. Hanson, Minneapolis, was killed outright.

TO RELIEVE CONGESTED CITIES.

To Make Farm Life More Attractive Is Aim of Governor.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 12.—A proposition whereby the congestion of cities will be relieved and life made more attractive for the present residents of the rural districts, and to increase the productivity of every acre of tillable land in America, has been submitted to President C. H. Fassett of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce by Gov. M. E. Hay of Washington.

Uncle Ezra Says: "If some young men would put as much energy into the rest of the farm work as they put into sowin' with oats, they'd discover a good deal more money in farmin'."

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed, the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by the fathers and mothers.

If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines when medicines are not needed, and when nature requires assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. As you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. To get its beneficial effects it is necessary to purchase the genuine only.
